The packaging has weight and feels like it is good quality I have actually dropped some of my paint pots from quite a height (#typical klutzy Ranita!!).. While the glass pot has a small crack, the product is intact and the pot is still going strong!Painterly has a very thick formulation.. A must have product for this effect is the MAC Pro-Longwear Paint Pot in Painterly which I will review and swatch today.. If it is smudged close to the upper and lower lash line, it works as a great base for kohls and eyeliners.. The essence of natural make up is to make you look like yourself, only more polished.. Like any cream product, you'll want to store these tightly closed, otherwise they can dry out.. Any colour applied with painterly as a base appears much brighter and stays much longer.. I love the colour of this paint pot The colour complements almost every skin tone beautifully.. It just seems very natural and polished My favourite way to wear this product as an eye-shadow is with a satin finish brown or taupe in the crease. ae05505a44 G Force Auto Tuning System
